Item 2.02 Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

On May 25, 2011, NetApp, Inc. ("NetApp" or the "Company") issued a press release and supplemental commentary reporting financial results for the fourth quarter and year ended April 29, 2011. The press release and supplemental commentary are furnished herewith as Exhibit 99.1 and Exhibit 99.2, respectively, and are incorporated herein by reference.

These exhibits shall not be deemed "filed" for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or incorporated by reference in any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Exchange Act, except as shall be expressly set forth by specific reference in such a filing.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement NetApp's condensed consolidated financial statement information presented on a GAAP basis, the press release and supplemental commentary furnished herewith as Exhibit 99.1 and Exhibit 99.2, respectively, provide investors with certain non-GAAP measures, including, but not limited to, historical non-GAAP operating results and net income and historical and future non-GAAP net income per diluted share. For purposes of internal planning, performance measurement and resource allocation, NetApp's management uses non-GAAP measures of net income that exclude: (a) amortization of intangible assets, (b) stock-based compensation expenses, (c) acquisition related income and expenses, (d) restructuring and other charges, (e) asset impairments, (f) non-cash interest expense associated with our convertible debt, (g) net losses or gains on investments, and (h) our GAAP tax provision, but includes a non-GAAP tax provision based upon our projected annual non-GAAP effective tax rate for the first three quarters of the fiscal year and an actual non-GAAP tax provision for the fourth quarter of the fiscal year. NetApp's management uses these non-GAAP measures in making operating decisions because it believes the measurements provide meaningful supplemental information regarding NetApp's ongoing operational performance. These non-GAAP financial measures are used to: (1) measure company performance against historical results, (2) facilitate comparisons to our competitors' operating results, and (3) allow greater transparency with respect to information used by management in financial and operational decision making. In addition, these non-GAAP financial measures are used to measure company performance for the purposes of determining employee incentive plan compensation.

As described above, NetApp excludes the following items from its non-GAAP measures:

- A. Amortization of intangible assets. NetApp records amortization of intangible assets that were acquired in connection with its business combinations. The amortization of intangible assets varies depending on the level of acquisition activity. Management finds it useful to exclude these charges to assess the appropriate level of various operating expenses to assist in budgeting, planning and forecasting future periods and in measuring operational performance.
- B. Stock-based compensation expenses. NetApp excludes stock-based compensation expenses from its non-GAAP measures primarily because they are non-cash expenses. While management views stock-based compensation as a key element of our employee retention and long-term incentives, we do not view it as an expense to be used in evaluating operational performance in any given period. In addition, the valuation of stock-based awards and associated expense are based on factors and assumptions that management believes are, in large part, outside of management's control.
- C. Acquisition related income and expense. NetApp excludes acquisition related income and expenses, including (a) merger termination proceeds, (b) due diligence, legal and other one-time integration charges, and (c) the impact of inventory step-ups, from its non-GAAP measures primarily because they are not related to our on-going business or cost base and, therefore, cannot be relied upon for future planning and forecasting.
- D. Restructuring and other charges. These charges include restructuring charges that are incurred based on the particular facts and circumstances of restructuring decisions, including employment and contractual settlement terms, and other related charges, and can vary in size and frequency. These items are not ordinarily included in our annual operating plan and related budget due to the unpredictability of the timing and size of these events. We therefore exclude them in our assessment of operational performance.
- E. Asset impairments. These are non-cash charges to write down assets when there is an indication that the asset has become impaired, or assets from acquisitions that NetApp does not intend to use in its ongoing business. Management finds it useful to exclude these non-cash charges due to the unpredictability of these events in its assessment of operational performance.
- F. Non-cash interest expense. These are non-cash charges from the amortization of debt discount and issuance costs. Management does not believe that these charges reflect the underlying performance of our business.
- G. Net losses or gains. These include realized gains and losses on and other-than-temporary impairments of our investments related to significant investment impairments or liquidation events. Management believes that these gains and losses do not reflect the results of our underlying, ongoing businesses and, therefore, finds it useful to exclude them in assessing our performance.

H. Income tax effects. NetApp excludes its GAAP tax provision, including discrete items, from its non-GAAP measure of net income, but includes a non-GAAP tax provision based upon its projected annual non-GAAP effective tax rate for the first three quarters of the fiscal year and an actual non-GAAP tax provision for the fourth quarter of the fiscal year. Management believes the use of a non-GAAP tax provision provides a more meaningful measure of the company's operational performance in any given period.

There are limitations in using non-GAAP financial measures because the non-GAAP financial measures are not prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and may be different from non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies. In addition, the non-GAAP financial measures are limited in value because they exclude certain items that may have a material impact upon our reported financial results. Management compensates for these limitations by analyzing current and future results on a GAAP basis as well as a non-GAAP basis and also by providing GAAP measures in our earnings release and prepared remarks. The presentation of non-GAAP financial information is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the directly comparable financial measures prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. The non-GAAP financial measures are meant to supplement, and be viewed in conjunction with, GAAP financial measures. Investors should review the information regarding non-GAAP financial measures provided in our press release and prepared remarks.

Adoption of New Accounting Standards

In the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2011, NetApp adopted Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") No. 2009-13, and ASU No. 2009-14 related to revenue recognition for transactions originating or materially modified in fiscal year 2011. These accounting standards generally result in earlier revenue recognition than under previous standards for certain deliverables in multiple-element arrangements. We implemented these standards retrospectively to the beginning of fiscal year 2011; therefore, the full year and previously reported quarterly results for fiscal year 2011 have been adjusted to reflect the adoption of these new standards.

"NetApp delivered 30% revenue growth, 38% growth in cash from operations and over $1B in non-GAAP operating profit during fiscal 2011. We achieved the largest market share gains in our history and closed a record number of million dollar deals, demonstrating our momentum in the market as enterprise customers increasingly choose NetApp as their vendor of choice for storage virtualization and cloud deployments," said Tom Georgens, president and CEO. "Together with our partners we create unmatched IT efficiency and flexibility with innovative solutions that solve the biggest and hardest problems in accessing and protecting business-critical information."

In the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2011, NetApp adopted mandatory new accounting standards related to revenue recognition for transactions originating or materially modified in fiscal year 2011. We implemented these standards retrospectively to the beginning of fiscal year 2011; therefore the full year and previously reported quarterly results for fiscal 2011 have been adjusted to reflect the adoption of these new standards. An analysis of the impact of the new accounting standards can be found on page 3 of the Supplemental Commentary and the adjusted Statements of Operations for prior quarters can be found on page 14 of the Supplemental Commentary and on our website at investors.netapp.com.

Outlook

- NetApp estimates revenue for the first quarter of fiscal year 2012 to be approximately $1.500 billion, plus or minus 3%, which equates to approximately 2% to 8% sequential revenue growth and approximately 26% to 34% year over year revenue growth.
- NetApp estimates that first quarter fiscal year 2012 GAAP earnings per share will be approximately $0.31 to $0.36 per share. NetApp estimates that first quarter fiscal year 2012 non-GAAP earnings per share will be approximately $0.52 to $0.57 per share.
- NetApp estimates that share count for the first quarter of fiscal year 2012 will increase to approximately 410 million shares, including an estimated 16 million shares from the company's outstanding convertible notes³ and 9 million shares from outstanding warrants. Share count does not include the company's outstanding note hedges that are expected to offset 80% of the dilution from the convertible notes at maturity or conversion.
- The above guidance reflects the new accounting standards related to revenue recognition.

Business Highlights

In its fourth quarter of fiscal year 2011, NetApp continued to demonstrate its commitment to providing customers and partners with the solutions and technologies that are foundational to their success. During the quarter, NetApp entered into a definitive agreement to purchase the Engenio external storage systems business from LSI Corporation to enable NetApp to expand its addressable market and generate greater revenue growth with a strategic storage platform intended to capitalize on new high-growth opportunities for big-bandwidth and high-performance applications. Additionally, NetApp continues to enable enterprises to make the transition to a flexible and shared IT infrastructure and once again received numerous awards honoring its product innovation, executive leadership, and culture. Highlights included the following:

NetApp to Address Emerging, Fast-Growing Market Segments for Big-Bandwidth and High-Performance Applications

NetApp Usage of Non-GAAP Financials

The Company refers to the non-GAAP financial measures cited above in making operating decisions because they provide meaningful supplemental information regarding the Company's ongoing operational performance. Non-GAAP net income excludes the amortization of intangible assets, stock-based compensation expenses, acquisition related income and expenses, restructuring and other charges, asset impairments, non-cash interest expense associated with our convertible debt, net losses or gains on investments, and our GAAP tax provision, but includes a non-GAAP tax provision based upon our projected annual non-GAAP effective tax rate for the first three quarters of the fiscal year and an actual non-GAAP tax provision for the fourth quarter of the fiscal year. We have excluded these items in order to enhance investors' understanding of our ongoing operations. The use of these non-GAAP financial measures has material limitations because they should not be used to evaluate our company without reference to their corresponding GAAP financial measures. As such, we compensate for these material limitations by using these non-GAAP financial measures in conjunction with GAAP financial measures.

These non-GAAP financial measures are used to: (1) measure company performance against historical results, (2) facilitate comparisons to our competitors' operating results, and (3) allow greater transparency with respect to information used by management in financial and operational decision making. In addition, these non-GAAP financial measures are used to measure company performance for the purposes of determining employee incentive plan compensation. We have historically reported similar non-GAAP financial measures to our investors and believe that the inclusion of comparative numbers provides consistency in our financial reporting at this time.

Adoption of New Accounting Standards

In the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2011, NetApp adopted Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") No. 2009-13, and ASU No. 2009-14 related to revenue recognition for transactions originating or materially modified in fiscal year 2011. We implemented these standards retrospectively to the beginning of fiscal year 2011; therefore the full year and previously reported fiscal 2011 quarterly results have been adjusted to reflect the adoption of these new standards.

NetApp Q4 and FY2011 Earnings Results

Supplemental Commentary May 25, 2011

This supplemental commentary is provided concurrently with our earnings press release to allow for additional time to review and analyze additional supplemental data prior to commencement of the company's earnings call. This information will not be read during the live call.

Safe Harbor Statement

These prepared remarks contain forward-looking statements and projections that involve risk and uncertainty, including the statements under the Q1 FY12 outlook section regarding our forecasted financial performance and share count for the first quarter of fiscal year 2012. Actual results may differ materially from our statements or projections. Factors that could cause actual results to differ from our statements or projections include, but are not limited to, customer demand for our products and services; our ability to effectively integrate the recently acquired Engenio external storage systems business and achieve our anticipated results for such business; our ability to increase revenue and manage our operating costs; our ability to accurately forecast demand for our products and services; increased competition risks associated with the anticipated growth in the networked storage market; our reliance on a limited number of suppliers; general economic and market conditions, including our stock price; our ability to deliver new product architectures and enterprise service offerings; and our ability to design products and services that compete effectively from a price and performance perspective. Other equally important factors are detailed in our accompanying press release as well as in our Annual and Quarterly reports on Forms 10-K and 10-Q, respectively, on file with the SEC and also available on our website, all of which are incorporated by reference into today's commentary.

All numbers herein are stated in accordance with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) unless indicated otherwise. To see the reconciling items between our non-GAAP and GAAP financial information, refer to the tables at the end of this document, as well as in our press release and on our website.

Adoption of New Accounting Standards Related to Revenue Recognition

In the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2011, NetApp adopted mandatory new accounting standards related to revenue recognition for transactions originating or materially modified in fiscal year 2011. This accounting convention affects the way certain deliverables in multiple-element arrangements are recognized from a revenue perspective. We implemented these standards retrospectively to the beginning of fiscal year 2011; therefore the full year and previously reported quarterly results for fiscal 2011 have been adjusted to reflect the adoption of these new standards.

All fiscal year 2011 disclosures (both full year and quarterly) reflect the adoption of the new accounting standards. Fiscal year 2010 numbers have not been adjusted. Year over year comparisons reflect the new accounting standards for fiscal year 2011 results and the prior standards for fiscal year 2010 results.

Fiscal year 2011 net revenue was $5.12 billion, an increase of 30% over fiscal year 2010. Non-GAAP gross margins were 65.6% and reflect incremental improvement over last year's results.

Revenue growth of 30% year over year outpaced growth in operating expenses and non-GAAP operating margin was 20% for fiscal year 2011. Profitability gains are reflected in the 46% year over year increase in non-GAAP net income per share.

The table below provides a summary of the impact from adopting the new accounting standards related to revenue recognition for Q1 - Q3 of fiscal year 2011.

^{*} Reflects new accounting standards related to revenue recognition

Our net revenues for the three months and twelve months ended April 29, 2011 include a favorable impact of $48.2 million and $129.2 million, respectively, from the adoption of the new accounting standards related to revenue recognition. In Q2, application of the new standards included an incremental impact of approximately $28 million to both revenues and cost of revenues for a single transaction, the only such transaction of its kind, entered into in fiscal year 2011. While operating under the old methodology, the average impact of the first three quarters was just under $20 million per quarter. The gap was wider in Q4 as the previous methodology no longer governed our practices. For the adjusted Statements of Operations for Q1 – Q3, please see page 14 of this commentary or on our website http://investors.netapp.com.

Non-GAAP net income totaled $237 million or $0.59 per share. GAAP net income was $161 million or $0.40 per share. Diluted share count decreased by approximately 3 million shares in Q4 from the prior quarter.

Impact of Convertible Note Transaction on Share Count

	Q4 FY11	Q3 FY11	Q4 FY10
Convertible Notes ³	15M	17M	1M
Warrants	8M	10M	0

For Q4, our dilutive share count was approximately 404 million, slightly lower than our guidance of approximately 414 million. With an average stock price of $51.23 during Q4, both the convertible notes and warrants had a dilutive impact on our share count.

Our convertible notes have a dilutive impact on our share count whenever the average quarterly share price is above the notes' $31.85 conversion price. We expect the dilutive effect from the notes will ultimately be 80% hedged, although the hedge will not be reflected in our share count until the notes are converted or mature in June 2013 as it is considered anti-dilutive under GAAP. If the notes had been converted in Q4, the hedge would have reduced our share count by approximately 12 million shares.

Unlike the notes, the warrants are not hedged and are dilutive whenever the average quarterly stock price is above $41.28.

 $^{^3\,80\%}$ hedged on maturity or conversion of the convertible notes.

This forecast reflects the Engenio acquisition which closed on May 9, new accounting standards related to revenue recognition and is based on current business expectations and current market conditions. Dilutive share count includes the impact of our convertible note and warrants, based upon our average stock price of $52.98 for the first 10 days of our first quarter. We estimate share count for the first quarter of fiscal year 2012 will increase to approximately 410 million shares, including an estimated 16 million shares from the Company's outstanding convertible notes and 9 million shares from outstanding warrants. Share count does not include the Company's outstanding note hedges that are expected to offset 80% of the dilution from the convertible notes at maturity or conversion, which would equate to an offset of approximately 13 million shares if the conversion or maturity occurs in the first quarter.

NetApp Usage of Non-GAAP Financials

The Company refers to the non-GAAP financial measures cited above in making operating decisions because they provide meaningful supplemental information regarding the Company's ongoing operational performance. Non-GAAP net income excludes the amortization of intangible assets, stock-based compensation expenses, acquisition related income and expenses, restructuring and other charges, asset impairments, non-cash interest expense associated with our convertible debt, net losses or gains on investments, and our GAAP tax provision, but includes a non-GAAP tax provision based upon our projected annual non-GAAP effective tax rate for the first three quarters of the fiscal year and an actual non-GAAP tax provision for the fourth quarter of the fiscal year. We have excluded these items in order to enhance investors' understanding of our ongoing operations. The use of these non-GAAP financial measures has material limitations because they should not be used to evaluate our company without reference to their corresponding GAAP financial measures. As such, we compensate for these material limitations by using these non-GAAP financial measures in conjunction with GAAP financial measures.

These non-GAAP financial measures are used to: (1) measure company performance against historical results, (2) facilitate comparisons to our competitors' operating results, and (3) allow greater transparency with respect to information used by management in financial and operational decision making. In addition, these non-GAAP financial measures are used to measure company performance for the purposes of determining employee incentive plan compensation. We have historically reported similar non-GAAP financial measures to our investors and believe that the inclusion of comparative numbers provides consistency in our financial reporting at this time.
